IN FAVOR OF PEACE

PRESIDENT JOHNSON SAYS THE GAME IS NOW FLOURISHING.

American League Leader Tells How
Peace Plans Were Blocked
Last Summer.

Ban B. Johnson, president of the American League, at his Thanksgiving turkey in Cincinnati. An interview in the Cincinnati Enquirer says that Mr. Johnson emphatically denied the interview sent out from Chicago in which he was made to say that the American League would wipe out the National.

"I never uttered that," said he. "I have always said that this country was large enough for two major leagues, and that baseball can only prosper under such conditions. We are not trying to wipe out the National League, though we are fighting it. We want the National League to exist, but just as soon as one organization monopolizes baseball the game will lose favor and be buried again, as it was before the American League came into the field. So long as this war is on we will fight, but it is not a war of extermination. We are fighting for our rights, and when they are recognized the war will be over."

National League Declared War.

"It was the National League which declared war, not the American. Just one year ago President Hart of the Chicago club went before the National League meeting in New York and submitted a proposition for the American League. It was that the American League desired to take Washington and Baltimore off the National League's hands if we were allowed to place a club in Philadelphia. We further proposed to pay the National League for its surplus players. That proposition was rejected. I was at the Lafayette Hotel waiting to be called into the National League meeting and arrange matters. I was given to understand that I should stay there until doomsday, but that I would not be sent for. Then the National League made the first warlike move. The Boston club tried to sign Dick Padden. Harry Pulliam at once struck out for Padden's home and signed him to a St. Louis contract. That was the first player grabbed and he was grabbed by the National League. We, of course, did not stand still. We placed a club in Boston, we signed National League players, we went to Philadelphia, and will next year have a club in St. Louis. That is how this war became a reality."

Robison the Real Pirate.

"Robison of the St. Louis club terms us pirates and bandits, yet there is not a fiercer pirate on the seas than Robison. Did he not deliberately take the St. Louis club from Chris Von der Ahe without paying him a single cent? He now cites how poorly Manning was treated by the American League. Only a few years ago Robison, Brush and a few others tried to take the Kansas City club away from Manning. In fact, they tried to take the entire Western League, without paying a cent. The American League has taken nothing from Manning or any one else. Manning got $15,200 when he pulled out of Washington. Burns and Stallings were paid $10,500 when they pulled out of Detroit. We did not resort to the methods used by the National League when Chris Von der Ahe was ousted. We warned Robison last June that unless he got into the peace movement which was then on foot, we would place a club in St. Louis, and we will."

"It was started by a man who is interested in the National League. I cannot give you his name, because that was agreed upon to be kept a secret. I was sent for and went to Atlantic City. There the man was laid out by me. Brush and Freedman balked, because they feared the man who was trying to patch up the differences which still exist. Robison, too, was against it. We have signed six of his players. He says that Wallace will stay with him, but Wallace has signed with us and taken out advance money. We are quizzing these players' salaries out of Robison's reach."

"Has Roscoe Miller signed with Detroit?" was asked.

"Yes, he was the first man to sign with that club, and his contract was turned over by Burns and Stallings when they sold out to Mr. Augustus."

Dwyer Wants Harley.

"I see that Dick Harley threatens to jump. I know nothing about Harley or his plans. If he has signed a two-year contract, he cannot come to the American League, for we will not allow a player to break a contract. We do not recognize the option clause because it has been held illegal by the courts. If Harley is wanted by an American League club, it must be Detroit. All the other clubs have plenty of outfielders. Frank Dwyer was looking for an outfielder when I last heard from him, and it is likely he will sign with Harley. In speaking of the coming meeting of the American League, Mr. Johnson said:

There are some important matters to be considered, but the meeting will hardly last more than two days. The St. Louis club will be represented by myself. We are not ready to place the owners of that club before the public. That will come in due time. There is being a great deal said about the Milwaukee club. I am pictured as the man responsible for the Brewers being moved. But that does not matter. Time will explain many things."

IN CHESS CIRCLES

Messrs. Walker and Fox had a little preliminary troyout this week, which resulted in a good game, and after a long session, in favor of Mr. Fox.

Mr. Fox having returned from his trip with quite a reputation, puts him somewhat in the position of being against the field. This afternoon the first game of what promises to be an informal match was played between him and Mr. Sournin. In the middle game the latter made a slip and lost the exchange, which carried the game with it. It was played too late to get the score. A second game is arranged for Monday.

Captain O'Farrell has notified members of the executive committee of the local chess club that he will play for the championship of the District against whatever player the committee may select.

One proposal that seems to be popular, is that a small number of strong players, the stronger players of the club be selected to play a match for the purpose of deciding who shall play with the captain, the present holder of the championship.
